 The First Opera in this Series was MOZART's celebrated Lyric Comedy—

THE MARRIAGE OF FIGARO,

(Completed in Six Parts,)

AND FOLLOWED BY

BELLINI'S NORMA,

To be completed in Three and a half Parts.

To the Amateur, this Edition will indeed be found a bonus, placing at the possessor's will, all the delightful Vocal works of the great and favorite Masters; besides the numerous Pianoforte pieces, it will contain, in the shape of Overtures, Entr'actes, Ballet Music, &c. &c.—putting the outlayer of a few half-crowns a year in the possession of an annually increasing Library of excellent Music;—enabling him or her to make the ear acquainted, in the chamber, with every great Lyrical work, prior to hearing it; and then to perfect its utility by accompanying the delighted auditor at the performance, and pointing out the several Orchestral beauties of the already familiarized Opera.

To the Professor, this Edition will be an obvious accessory, equally portable in the hand, as convenient at the instrument. It will be found a delightful companion at the Theatre or Concert-room; even an indispensable one, by presenting every feature in the original Orchestral Score at a glance, and also the unaccompanied Recitatives (hitherto unpublished) in their integrity. On account of the size, it will be found an excellent Monitor in the Dressing-room of the Theatre, or on the Platform of the Concert-hall.

To the Theatrical Director, this Edition will present the advantages of saving him the expense of a hurried translation, when he would place any piece contained in the Series on his boards; moreover, the Stage Directions, &c. &c. are from the original.

It is confidently expected that from Three to Five Operas will be completed in the course of each year.

At the termination of each Opera, its Libretto, Biography of Composer, &c. will be given.

The choicest engraving, and the best printing, are devoted to the work.

The Proprietors, possessing the Copyrights of several valuable works—as "La Sonnambula," "Linda di Chamouni," "Ernani," &c.—will include them in the Series. J. W. M.

☞ Mozart's "Figaro" may now be had handsomely done up in boards, price 16*s.*
